

Missouri Hall

TRUMAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Street Smarts Next Friday | You Could Win Big!

Do you remember the game show Street Smarts? Contestants try and guess who got the right answers and who got it wrong with general trivia and pop culture questions. Residence Life and the Center for Student Involvement are putting on their own Street Smarts next Friday, April 3, at 7:00 PM in the Baldwin Auditorium.

Contestants will be chosen at random from the audience, so anyone could be one of the 25 contestants that night. People who make it to the final round can play for a flat screen TV, an MP3 player, Nintendo Wii, and other prizes!

Baldwin Hall will fill up for this event, so get there early to make sure you've got a chance to play. We've just finished filming the questions and responses, and they are hysterical! You're going to really enjoy this event.

For more information on the event, search "Street Smarts" on Facebook.

March 26, 2009

You could win a new Nintendo Wii and other great prizes at Street Smarts next week.

How's Your Green Day Going?

The Missouri Hall Senate continues to encourage you to be energy-smart with their Go Green Tuesdays campaign. Every little bit helps save resources and money when you conserve energy and water here in Missouri Hall. You can try and cut back on Tuesdays each week. We'll help you remember by leaving the quiet hour lights off.

Think about ways you can conserve. Take a shorter shower. Try powering down your computer for the night. Do whatever you can to save and help both Truman and the environment out.

Tunnel of Oppression is Life Changing Experience

You have the rare opportunity to participate in a diversity awareness event called Tunnel of Oppression. The original tunnel was on the campus of the Western Illinois State University ten years ago. Since that time college campuses around the nation have constructed their own tunnels. This walk-through experience will help you to understand the oppression people face every day in America. The tunnel, located in the BNB basement, will be April 1 and April 2 at 7:00-9:00 PM.

Coming Up at MO Hall . . .

Tunnel of Oppression

April 1-2 | 7:00 - 9:00 PM
Blanton-Nason-Brewer Basement

MO Hall Art Gala

Thursday, April 3 | 4:30 - 7:00 PM
MO Hall Chariton Room | Free Admission

Street Smarts

Friday, April 3 | 7:00 PM
Baldwin Auditorium | Free Admission

Scrabble Tournament

Saturday, April 4 | 2:00 PM
Missouri Hall Chariton Room

"Hey Leonardo, what can you offer for the MO Hall Art Gala?"

Missouri Hall Art Gala Next Thursday | Prepare Your Submission

The Missouri Hall Art Gala is next week. Are you planning to submit a piece? We're accepting work from any Truman student. Anyone who comes by the show can place their vote for their favorite piece and help select the winners. The winners will have their work permanently hung in Missouri Hall and will receive a $100 prize. For more information, visit the Missouri Hall website, <http://missouri.truman.edu>, and click on the Art Gala link. You can download a submission form and return it to the hall office.

The actual art gala is during dinner on Thursday, April 2, in the Missouri Hall Chariton Room. When you drop by for dinner, stop in the Chariton Room and take a look at the works on display. While you are there, cast your vote for the best piece.

To see the winners of last year's Gala, check out the art on display in the first floor of the building. See you next Thursday night!

Be a Part of Truman's Ferris Bueller's Day Off

You could use a vacation. How about a trip to Chicago? Just like Ferris Bueller, you could head out to watch the Cubs play a game and enjoy all that downtown Chicago has to offer.

The trip is Thursday, April 23. You'll leave Truman at 4:00 AM (it's early, but it's OK). You'll bus over to Quincy, Illinois, and catch the train into Chicago. You'll have a few hours to hang out in Chicago before catching the Red Line to Wrigley Field to watch the Cubs take on the Reds. After the game it's back to Kirksville. You should be home by midnight.

This great adventure only costs $30 (wow!). Spots are limited at 41, so you'll want to sign up fast. You can sign up for the event starting March 30 at the Information Desk in the SUB. You will need to pay when you sign up.

For more info, email Centennial Hall Director Bill McKenney at bmckenney@truman.edu.

