Homecoming 2009 Happening All Week - Join In!

We are now in the midst of one of Truman's longest running traditions. Homecoming at Truman is always a fun way to celebrate who we are and all that we have been. There are a lot of events happening this week that you should make it out for.

For example, there is a trivia tournament tonight (Wednesday) in the Union. Get your smartest friends and head over to try your hand a winning fun prizes. There is the annual lip sync competition Thursday at 7:00. You'll want to get your ticket's for this fun event.

On Thursday afternoon at 4:00, join our community bathroom friends at Dobson Hall for their official ribbon cutting ceremony to welcome them back from renovation.

Of course, some of the biggest events will be all the great athletics matchups during the week. To see all the sports schedules, visit <http://gobulldogs.truman.edu>.

See the Parade this year from the student section at Patterson and Franklin Streets!

Join the Student Section at the Homecoming Parade

Everyone in town turns out for the Homecoming Parade, but where are all of the students going to be? This year an official student section has been set up. It will be at the corner of Patterson and Franklin Streets (see the inset map). Come join everyone else at Truman as we watch the parade!

At the student section will be free hot chocolate and tasty cinnamon rolls for sale. There will also be a pizza party awarded to the house with the most residents out at the parade. So set your alarm! We'll see you Saturday morning at 9:00.

MicroFridge Audit Happening This Week

Each year we do a fall audit on the MicroFridges in Missouri Hall. Over the next week, your Student Advisors will be dropping by to see if you have a University owned MicroFridge and to record the information on it. They will be checking all rooms, not just those that we have on record as having a unit, so don't be surprised when they drop by your room. If you would like to get a MicroFridge, it's not too late. Drop by the office and we will set you up with one.

Get Ready to Meet a Special Lady. She is "Not Your Mom!"

Over the next few weeks, you're going to see a new series of notes around Missouri Hall from "Not Your Mom." She'll be reminding us all about some things that everyone, as cool college adults, should be able to handle on their own.

For example, don't leave dirty dishes in the kitchen. As soon as you are done cooking, wash your dishes, clean up the kitchen, and put your dishes away. A dirty kitchen looks bad, attracts bugs, and makes it hard for others to use the kitchen. Dirty dishes left in the kitchen will be thrown away. Yep, thrown away. So please, clean up the kitchen.

All of these things are common sense things we should all do anyway. And as she says:

Come on, you're in college now! Be a big kid. After all . . .

I am Not Your Mom!

Missouri Hall Quick Notes

- Even though the popular Humans vs. Zombies game will soon return to campus, please remember that is against policy to fire a Nerf gun in Missouri Hall. In light of the incident in Dobson Hall this past weekend, please make sure to be smart when playing HVZ with Nerf guns. It would be a real shame to have HVZ cancelled because a player got people scared with a Nerf gun. Be smart.
- If you do not have a physical disability, please stop using the handicap button on the front door. Yes, the doors are heavy, but over-use of the button leads to frequent maintenance, which leaves those with disabilities without a way to enter the building. So, don't be a jerk! Don't use the button if you don't need to. Thanks!

Missouri Hall Senate Re-launches Newsletter

This week you'll see the return of Missouri Hall's oldest weekly publication, Stall Notes. Stall Notes is a newsletter that comes out nearly every week from the Missouri Hall Senate.

Each week the newsletter will feature information about what the Missouri Hall Senate is working on as well as news on other items in Missouri Hall and around campus. The Senate also puts together a weekly Top Ten list to make you smile while you're . . . uh . . . taking care of business.

The Missouri Hall Senate is getting underway with all sorts of great projects and initiatives for MO Hall. Join in at the meetings on Wednesdays at 8:30 in the Chariton Room.
